

OFFICE OF THE SCHOOL CHAIRMAN

OPEN UNIVERSITY OF KENYA (OUK)

MANDATORY DIRECTIVE: FINAL STRATEGIC VETTING SYMPOSIUM

OUK-NIS Tech Innovation Grants

Date of Issue: December 26, 2025 To: All Selected Project Leads, Researchers, and Fellow Students From: Office of the School Chairman

This is a mandatory and time-critical directive from the Office of the School Chairman regarding our collaborative research initiative with the National Intelligence Service (NIS) and the OUK Research Directorate. We have received an urgent mandate to finalize the selection of projects that will be granted access to specialized government resources and institutional research stipends.

Tomorrow's session is a high-level vetting event involving 250 selected participants from across the university. The NIS liaison and the OUK Committee require a finalized list of projects that demonstrate high strategic value. Selected projects will be eligible for Research & Development (R&D) grants and specialized resource access (including technical equipment and data repositories) to further their development.

Why Your Presence is Required Tomorrow:

- 1. Competitive Vetting: With 250 participants, the competition for the limited grant pool is intense. You must be present to defend your project's strategic alignment with the OUK-NIS partnership.
- 2. Resource Allocation: We will be finalizing the distribution of available research stipends and technical resources. Attendance is required for the final sign-off on budget allocations.

3. Mandatory Validation: To be included in the final dossier, all project leads must have cleared the KES 2,500 Project Validation & Registration Fee for this semester. This fee covers the administrative and security vetting costs required by the OUK-NIS partnership.
